Artist Bio:

Kati Silveria is a Visual Printmaking Artist and Designer; who's based in Spokane, Washington. Kati was raised mostly in the Inland Northwest. In 2021, she received her two degrees at Eastern Washington University in Visual Communication Design and Printmaking. She has worked with the Kalispel Tribe on an ELLO project and did design work for the Pink Ladies Tournament in Redding, California. She was exhibited in Eastern Washington University's Creative Symposium in the Spring of 2020, for her hand-built relief comic book. During her time at Eastern, Kati was influenced by the Printmaking Professor, Margot Casstevens, and Design Professor, Simeon Mills, for visual storytelling through comics utilizing the print-making processes.
